Broker Comments

A well-kept example now offered by her third owner, who has looked after her with evident care. Technically she is in good condition: servicing has been carried out every year by a local service company, and she has been consistently maintained throughout the current ownership.

In the interest of full transparency, there are a few minor cosmetic items to attend to, the helm station being the most notable. None of them affect her use or her technical condition, and they are easily rectified to the new owner's own taste.

She is offered EU VAT paid. Viewing is highly recommended.
